Dear

As a fellow conservative you know that we have a duty to District 22, to Texas, and to our fellow Americans to defeat liberal Nick Lampson and elect a Republican to represent us in Congress. As a strong believer in conservative values, I am answering that challenge – I am announcing my candidacy for U.S. Congress in the 22nd District.

This is not my first answer to the call of civic duty. I was previously elected as both Mayor and Councilmember of Sugar Land, and during my tenure we reduced property taxes by 33%. I have also been a Republican precinct chair, senatorial district delegate and officer, state party delegate and committed conservative activist for over twenty-five years.

Imagine the November election between a conservative former Mayor and Councilmember who reduced property taxes by 33% and Nick Lampson, a former tax assessor-collector in Beaumont. Tax cutter vs. tax collector.

I am a very strong conservative with deep and public support from conservative activists across the district and today I'm asking you for your support. If we are to be successful in bringing conservative leadership back to District 22 then I'll need your help.

I am the only candidate with ties throughout the District. I am a twenty-five plus year resident of District 22 – I was born in Houston, grew up in Houston and Pearland and graduated from Pearland High School. I attended San Jacinto College in Pasadena and graduated from the University of Houston at Clear Lake with a degree in Accounting and the University of Houston Law School and have lived and worked in Sugar Land for the last twenty years.

There are several critical issues facing America and our families: border security and immigration, terrorism, the war, the sanctity of life, protecting traditional marriage, protecting our airports and seaports and reforming the Internal Revenue Code are all high priorities for our family's welfare.

We must track and stop terrorists before they strike to keep our families safe. To that end we must protect and secure our borders and seaports. Our families are particularly exposed with the ship channel so near.

Paid for by Dean Hrbacek for Congress

Illegal immigrants are costing American taxpayers every single day. Let me pledge here and now that as your Congressman I will not support blanket amnesty for illegal immigrants.

Nick Lampson and the U.S. Congress failed us by not passing immigration legislation which fundamentally reforms our failing system. As a metropolitan center in a border state, our taxes are higher because Congress and Nick Lampson have failed to stop, or even slow, the flow of illegal immigrants into our neighborhoods.

The U.S. Congress must act, and blanket amnesty is not an option. We must not reward illegal immigrants for breaking our laws. Our number one priority must be protecting our borders, and thus far the Washington insiders have failed us on this issue. As your next Congressman your voice on immigration reform will be heard!

I am pro-life. I will fight for the unborn just as hard as I'll fight to protect your family and my own. I believe strongly that marriage is sacred and is between one man and one woman only.

As a small businessman, tax attorney and CPA who spends many of his days fighting the IRS on behalf of taxpayers, I know full well that the tax code and the IRS itself need a complete overhaul. Our nation's economy is driven by small businesses and I will fight to free them from unnecessary government regulation, taxation and litigation. I also realize that NASA is vital to our nation and essential to our local economy – I will fight to maintain and increase NASA's prominence among our nation's priorities.

I'm no Washington bureaucrat, just a common sense person who shares your conservative values. I'm a lifetime member of the National Rifle Association, active in the Fort Bend Republican Club, the Sugar Land Rotary Club, the Fort Bend Chamber, the Rosenberg Richmond Area Chamber and Fort Bend Cares.

My family is the center of my life. My wife, Jenny, and I just celebrated our 26th wedding anniversary and we have three beautiful children. We are active in our church and recognize the blessings in our lives.

Today I humbly announce my candidacy for Congress and ask for your support and prayers for our nation, our soldiers and our families.

God Bless America!
